NAME OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Elmer Paul Elected President of Alumni Association

The annual meeting of the alumni association of the Hancock high school was held last evening in the Central building on Quincy street, when officers were elected for the coming year. There were but few members of the association present last evening and it was decided to hold a second meeting next week for the purpose of deciding where and when to hold the annual alumni outing.

The following officers were elected: President—Elmer Paul. Vice president—Miss Florence Funk.

Secretary—Miss Lillian Scott. Treasurer—Elly Aris.

The annual outing of the association has always been an enjoyable affair. In former years, the outing was usually held at White City, but some think it would be a good idea to change the meeting place this year and have the outing either at the Canal or Electric park. The meeting to be held some evening next week will be an important one and all interested are requested to be present. The date of the meeting will shortly be announced.

TYOMIES INCREASES CAPITAL.

Amended Articles of Incorporation are Filed With County Clerk.

Amended articles of incorporation of the Tyomies Publishing company stock from $15,000 to $100,000, were filed with the county clerk yesterday.

The amended articles state that at a meeting of the company, August 16, 1913, it was decided to make the increase. The new capital is divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each. Of this amount of capital $52,000 has been subscribed and $270,000 paid in cash. The incorporators are Herman Luokko, president; C. E. Hietala, secretary; these officers and Arthur Vuolera and Elia Nauko, directors.

This is the second time that the Tyomies company has increased its capital. The first increase was voted, from $5,000 to $15,000, June 18, 1907, at which time A. Nieminen, Matt Fred, Gust Frilund, Wm. Lisanantti and Richard Backman were directors. None of these names appear in the present list of officers.

John B. Nummalvori, who was sentenced to Marquette prison by the United States court on conviction of publishing obscene matter in a comic paper issued by the Tyomies company, has completed his sentence and is again in Hancock.

DANCING PARTY MAY 29.

Ingot Hive, No. 179, to Entertain in Germania Hall Soon.

Members of Ingot hive, No. 179 of Hancock, will entertain Friday evening, May 29, in Germania hall with a dancing party. Elaborate preparations are being made by those in charge and tickets are already on sale for the affair. One of the best orchestras in this district will be secured to furnish the music for the dancers and an excellent evening's entertainment is assured all who attend.

The proceeds of the dancing party will be donated to the St. Joseph's hospital. Many things are needed at the hospital and the members of the Maccabees thought this an excellent way in which to assist in securing funds.

TANGO PARTY TONIGHT.

Several young people of Hancock will hold a tango party in the Hibernian hall this evening. All of the new and modern dances will be danced. The entertainment is to be strictly private. The Hancock City orchestra will furnish the music for the dancers.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks--Sparkling Eyes--Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. E. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

WARES PLAYING GOOD BALL.

Former Hancock Player Making Good With St. Louis Americans.

Clyde "Kid" Wares, who formerly played with the Hancock team when professional baseball was enjoyed by the fans of this city several years ago, is making good with the St. Louis Americans, according to reports received in this city. Wares was one of the fastest players on the former Hancock professional team.

One of the weak points of Wares while playing in this city was his batting. But he has improved in that respect and is now hitting the ball with a vengeance. He is also commended by outside newspapers for his phenomenal base running.

TO SEEK 1919 CONVENTION.

Members of the Hancock German Aid society have made known their plan of seeking the 1919 gathering of the state grand lodge, and an invitation will be extended the Arbeiter Bund in Kalamazoo next month, at which the Hancock order will be represented by Frank Francis and Peter Klasan. Hancock had the pleasure of entertaining the band in annual convention last year and the delegates from the various societies present expressed a wish to return here at some future time. This expression encourages the local members toward inviting the convention to Hancock in 1919.

HOLD FIRST PRACTICE.

The first practice of candidates for the baseball team to represent the First Congregational Sunday school in the Sunday school baseball league of the copper country was held yesterday afternoon on the Quincy sands near the Houghton county bridge. The practice was very successful and that the team will be a strong one is assured. The first league game probably will be played Saturday afternoon, June 5.

HANCOCK BREVITIES.

Henry Peltier of Marquette is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peltier of Chassell.

Mrs. H. D. Lee has returned from a short visit in Ann Arbor. Howard Chynoweth of Ripley left yesterday for England, where he will visit for the summer months.

Mrs. Nancy J. Craig passed away at her home in northern Minnesota recently. She was the mother of C. B. M. Craig, former city engineer.

Rev. Reuben Crosby, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Hancock, addressed the students of the local high school this morning on "The Early Days of the Pilgrims."

Supt. Doelle of the Houghton public schools made a tour of inspection of the Otter Lake schools yesterday. Louis Dravel, ticket agent at the Mineral Range, who has been in Marquette for the past few days on business, returned to his duties last night.

Mart R. Hoar of the Mass mine visited friends and relatives in Houghton yesterday.

Mrs. Fred W. Hoar of Globe, Ariz., with her daughters, Gertrude and Mildred and son, Fred, arrived in Houghton yesterday to visit at the home of Mrs. R. M. Hoar.

Allen Cohen of Chicago is in Hancock.

F. E. Pollis of Marquette was a Hancock visitor today.

The dual track meet that was to have been held yesterday afternoon and continued this afternoon between two teams of candidates for the Hancock high school track and field team has been postponed until next Monday and Tuesday afternoons, because of poor weather. The track at the driving park is in poor condition and Coach Angell decided that better results would be obtained by waiting a few days.

Max Friedman is registered at the Scott Hotel. He is in the copper country on one of his regular visits to the merchants.

ANNIVERSARIES OF 1914.

Quite a Number of Notable Centenaries on the List.

Louise Muhlbach, born Jan. 2, heads the list of the births of distinguished persons who made their advent a century ago. For many years her novels were among the "best sellers" of the age, but today they are seldom read. The same day gave to the American portion of the world John Romyon (brother), the historian; while succeeding days of January furnished us with the anniversaries of Aubrey Thomas De Vere (10), the English poet; Charles Baker Adams (11), naturalist and geologist; Eugene Emmanuel Viollet Le Duc (17), great French architect; and Henry N. Hudson (28), Protestant Episcopal clergyman and Shakespearean scholar, and Sir Andrew Crombie (31), Scotch geologist. But the greatest name on the roll of births for January, 1914, is that of David Wilmut, on Jan. 28, Wilmut's "proviso" of 1846, at the beginning of the war with Mexico, stipulated that from the territory which would be gained by us in that conflict slavery should be excluded. Incidentally this became the cornerstone in the creed of the Republican Party, born in 1856, the party of Fremont, Lincoln, Grant, and Taft.

George Palmer Putnam (Feb. 7), founder of the greatest publishing house of that name; Samuel J. Tilden (9), politician and lawyer; W. H. H. G. Kingston (28), British romance writer, author of the "Circassian Chief," and scores of other books, chiefly juveniles; Charles Mackay (March 27), British poet and journalist, are well remembered. April gave us (2) Erasmus Artham Higelow, inventor of the power loom; Edward Elbridge Salisbury (6), philologist, and John Lathrop Motley (15), the historian of "The Dutch Republic" and the "United Netherlands" and Edwin Lankester (23), the British scientist and friend of Dickens and Douglas Jerrold, while Stephen Heller, the Hungarian musician, is recalled by May 15. Henry Whitte, Bellows (June 14) is well remembered as president of the Sanitary Commission during the civil war, and also as one of the most eminent Unitarian clergymen of this era; while in his own field Samuel Colt, (July 19), inventor and manufacturer of the revolver, has made a name for himself.

Aug. 14 saw the advent of William L. Yancey of Alabama, "the morning star of secession," while we are indebted to Oct. 23 for the Duc de Nemours, second son of Louis Philippe of France, who refused the post of King of Belgium; to Nov. 15 for Edward L. Bavenport, one of the leading actors of his time; to Nov. 15 for "Fighting Joe" Hooker; to Dec. 25 for Thomas 351-word, the Scotch naturalist and adviser of Darwin; and to Dec. 29 for 150-ward H. Chapin, one of the foremost Universalist preachers of his day.—Leslie's Weekly.
